January's home discussion: DETERMINATION

Determination:

Not giving up until you finish what you started

Wing-Words for Soaring:

-Determination is for every occasion...

-Whatever I begin, I will see it to the end!

-Finishing what I start will set me apart!

-Determination brings transformation...

-I will not give up or give-in until I finish what I begin!

Determination is a character trait worth growing in! It means that you are not going to give up on something until you finish it.

This month, people everywhere are making New Year Resolutions. A resolution is fancy word that means- a dedicated plan or goal. For example, some people want to lose weight or exercise more, while others want to learn a new language or make more friends or earn better grades in school.

Resolutions are great to make but people need determination to complete them. For example, it's great to make a resolution to pay more attention in class. To succeed, however, you will need the determination to ignore all other distractions so that you can focus on the teacher's words. (You can do it! )

Can you think of other resolutions for this new year? Do you think your parents and family might have some? Why not have a family meeting about 2014 goals? Then you can be determined to complete them together!
