Bio & Education

I graduated from Zhixin High School in China and earned my Bachelor of Science in Computer Science from Zhongshan University in South China. I then came to the U.S. and received my Master of Science in Computer and Information Sciences from the University of Alabama at Birmingham. After that I was fortunate enough to be both an educator in two different private colleges and a Magnet High School in the American South, and a software developer on the West Coast. My most recent industry experience was as an Engineering Director for the Asia-Pacific Operation of a Silicon Valley based Cyber Security firm. There I led my teams in forging its Integrated Cloud Platform offering Software as a Service (SaaS) to business subscribers from 87 countries around the world.
