Bio & Education

I'm originally from Fresno, California, and prior to teaching, I was a sign language interpreter for individuals who are D/deaf or hard of hearing. After moving to Texas in 2000, I finished my schooling and graduated from the University of North Texas in August of 2005 with a degree in Interdisciplinary Studies. This is my first year in Frisco ISD and will be my 9th year teaching. I've taught at the early childhood, elementary, and high school levels, all in Plano ISD.

My husband, Greg, and I share a love for teaching. We taught on the same campus my first year of teaching and were married a year later. He is now an Assistant Principal in Pottsboro ISD. We have two sons, Daxton and Keller.

Course(s) Taught

I currently teach Principles English I and Principles English II. I am also a Special Education Case Manager and Helping Teacher.

Activities/Hobbies

I enjoy watching football & baseball and spending time with my family. I would love to do all the crafts and projects that I pin on Pinterest, but have come to terms with the fact that that is only a dream.
